

TERROR ALWAYS CLOSE TO SURFACE IN IRELAND

Situation in Ireland Is the Strangest in History of the World.

FIGHTS ARE DAILY EVENTS

Nothing Unusual for Men to Be Dragged from Their Homes and Murdered.

By Charles M. McCann
By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin.—To term the present situation in Ireland as anything but war is futile, but it is war of a different sort than anything in history, with roadsides, homes and streets as battlefields and a conglomerate series of ambushes and assassinations as battles. The people meantime are leading apparently normal lives, though sometimes witnessing battles while on their way home from work and sometimes being thrust into the role of victims.

Recently a prominent lawyer was aroused from his sleep by a commotion at the front door. He investigated and met half a dozen men in the hall, clad in civilian clothes. He fell dying from half a dozen bullet wounds. A few nights ago a young man was sitting in a theatre with his wife. A group of men approached, dragged him from his seat into the lobby and shot him. The bullet miraculously glanced from his ribs and instead inflicted only a minor wound in the chest. The circumstances of both these cases were mysterious. Neither man was slain in politics.

Bomb Motor Lorries

Almost daily a lorry load of auxiliaries will be proceeding along a street. The crowds will hear the explosion of a bomb and perhaps a few passersby and one or two auxiliaries will be wounded.

So far none of these attacks has been markedly successful but soon a bomb is bound to land in a lorry and cause the death of a dozen or more auxiliaries.

Another phase of this unique picture is that of the daily raids by soldiers and police in search of conspirators. When the government inspectors began actively rounding up members of the Dail Eireann, they invaded a little tea shop only a hundred yards from Sackville street ten times in as many days. The shop looked innocent enough but it is alleged that behind its ramparts of enticing pastry Arthur Griffiths, and other Sinn Fein officials used to lunch. These are fair samples of the battle fields in the Irish war.

50,000 Raids in Year

It is incorrect to portray Dublin to be a city of terror, though terror is always near the surface.

To conceive the situation properly it is necessary to imagine such incidents occurring in any American city of 400,000 population without disturbing the ordinary life, amusements and activities of its citizens.

Though more than fifty thousand raids occurred in Ireland in 1920, according to newspapers, these were confined to a small proportion of the homes and shops. But a raid on one house brings home to the entire neighborhood war of a bitter sort and the throwing of a bomb into the street shatters the nerves of hundreds.

WORLD'S DEBT TO U. S. INCREASING

Foreign Nations Will Soon Owe United States at Least $20,000,000,000.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Foreign indebtedness to the American government and American business interests may be increased within the next few years to $20,000,000,000. A. C. Bedford, chairman of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, predicted today in a speech before the Brooklyn chamber of commerce.

"The allied governments owe the American government an unfunded balance of $10,000,000,000," Bedford said. "It is estimated there is a floating credit in the United States against Europe of some $4,000,000,000, and there is no chance that for at least a year or two the world will be able to liquidate either the interest or the principal of its obligation to the United States."

"As a matter of fact the chances are that by the very momentum of the forces now in motion the government and the business interests of the United States will within the next few years be irresistibly placed in a position of creditor to the rest of the world for fully $20,000,000,000."

"These facts represent a perilous situation. They place the United States on very dizzy heights. They create problems for our business structure such as it is never had to face before. It is a heritage beyond our greatest dreams. The problem is how shall we use it?"

"The fundamental causes of the distress from which we are suffering are not to be found in America, but mainly in Europe. The world is not suffering from over-production but under-consumption on the part of nations whose credit is exhausted."

MEXICO AGAIN THREATENED BY BANDIT BANDS

Reports of New Revolutionary Movements Received in Washington.

THOUSANDS OF IDLE MEN

Unemployment Situation May Drive Former Rebels Into Old Trade.

By Ralph H. Turner
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Fear that a resumption of sporadic banditry is threatening the peace of Mexico after seven months of quiet, was expressed by officials here today.

The fear was based on reports of attempts at new "revolutionary" movements. These efforts against the federal authority appear to have proved abortive thus far, but it was pointed out that the disgruntled elements may at least succeed in evading constitutional authority to the extent of maintaining small bands capable of bandit operations.

Within the last few weeks, it was learned today, armed escorts of federal soldiers have been placed on trains operating in northern Mexico. This practice was abandoned when the overthrow of Carranza brought comparative peace but its revival was deemed necessary when small rebel bands appeared recently in the district from Saltillo, north to the Texas border.

Many Men Are Idle

One danger that banditry may recur, according to the opinion, lies in the critical industrial situation which now exists in Mexico. Mines have closed throughout the country, causing a large amount of unemployment. Men out of work, it is feared, are apt to "take to the field," following the banner of any leader who promises them a livelihood.

General Murguia, old Carranza chieftain who is reported to be heading the latest anti-Oregon movement, is said to have timed his revolution so as to enlarge his forces from the ranks of the unemployed. The illness of President Obregon is given as another reason for the "rebels," deciding that the present was an opportune time to act.

Former Rebels Active
Officials here also believed that military men who were persuaded to retire from the army by an advance of six months pay are growing restive for fear this income may cease. Opposition leaders, it is said, hope to draw from these classes in filling their ranks.

Among the elements described as seeking to embarrass the Oregon government are the old Carranzistas, the so-called socialist group which has gained considerable strength in the chamber of deputies, and the self-styled reformist party headed by Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, former Mexican vice-president who played a prominent part in the Madero revolution.

Old Zapatista adherents also are reported to be organizing opposition to the Oregon administration.

Reports of a coalition among these groups are not confirmed here.

ORDERS PROBE OF MURDER OF NURSE

By United Press Leased Wire
Annapolis, Md.—Miss Harriet M. Kavanaugh, 35, a nurse at the naval hospital here, died today after being beaten into unconsciousness with a piece of lead pipe last night and thrown into a gully beside the road-way.

The attack occurred on a road leading to the government reservation, on which the naval hospital is situated. A piece of blood stained pipe two feet in length was found near the spot.

It was first thought that Miss Kavanaugh had been criminally assaulted, but this was found not to be the case. Rear-Admiral Seales, superintendent of the naval academy, ordered an immediate investigation, and designated a board of inquiry for that purpose. Miss Kavanaugh's home is in Buffalo.

GOOD CABBAGE MARKET IS NOW A CERTAINTY

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—A good cabbage market has become a certainty, according to a report issued here today by the division of markets.

"The long looked for strengthening of the cabbage market has become a certainty, at least for the present, the report said."

"While it is nothing as compared to a year ago, it has helped many farmers and dealers out of a bad hole and those who had confidence enough in the future to store some of their crop are now being repaid."

Sadie Takes Food After A 40-Day Fast

Woman Gives Up Effort to Force Husband to Become Evangelist.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dearville, Ill.—Mrs. Sadie Harrington broke her fast today after abstaining from food for 43 days, following a two hour plea by Rev. G. S. Payne.

"I am ready for my breakfast now," she said after Rev. Payne had won the victory.

Mrs. Harrington was fasting to force her husband to join the Church of God.

Rev. Payne called Ada Peercy, a nurse, to bring a cup of milk which Mrs. Harrington immediately drank. Rev. Payne waited long enough to see that the milk was retained on her stomach.

"Mrs. Harrington was very gentle and submissive throughout my conference with her and showed a wonderful spirit," said Rev. Payne.

"She did not attempt to argue with me and I stated incidentally that the Lord did not expect anyone to go without food."

Ernie Harrington was cutting lamb chops when informed that Sadie had broken her fast.

"Don't it beat hell," he exclaimed. "She went through her fast and I am still a sinner."

"I guess I will be going down to the house soon to see Sadie."

He turned to a customer and said: "How many pounds did you say you wanted?"

SIX BANDITS GET $20,000 IN BOLD POSTAL ROBBERY

One Man Is Captured and Another Killed When Speeding Auto Overturns.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dallas, Tex.—Lying on a table at the Emergency hospital here today, W. S. Scrivner, told police details of a robbery of the Jackson street postoffice here, which the authorities believe will clear up the spectacular holdup.

Scrivner was injured when he and Rufus Clemmons, while speeding, turned turtle on the road to Fort Worth. Clemmons is dead.

The six bandits seriously wounded two postoffice clerks during the holdup. A federal reserve bank shipment amounting to about $20,000 was stolen.

Scrivner led the authorities to a Dallas house where he said the men who staged the holdup lived, but no one but a woman was found. Other valuable information regarding the robbery was obtained from the prisoner, police said.

Police, citizens and city officials dashed in pursuit after the men grabbed two mail sacks and fled.

With posers scouring the country round about, police received word of a wrecked automobile on the Lake Worth road near Fort Worth. They found Clemmons dead beneath the wreckage and took in custody Scrivner, declared by police to have escaped from the state penitentiary.

Fort Worth police declared $801 with federal reserve bank wrappers intact were found on Clemmons and about $200 on Scrivner. Two other men were believed to have been in the car and escaped.

Both men wore pistol scabbards, according to officials.

THIRD OF LIQUOR SUPPLY IS GONE

John Barleycorn's Bequest Diminishes Rapidly Since His Demise.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—John Barleycorn's bequest is dwindling.

More than a third has gone in the year since he died.

It is just a year tomorrow that John Barleycorn's death warrant was served in the form of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which became effective Jan. 16, 1920. At that time there were left in bonded warehouses 65,000,000 gallons of liquor.

Today, according to internal bureau figures, there are about 40,000,000 gallons.

DAWES SLATED TO BE HEAD OF DEPT. OF WAR

Harding Is Considering Shift in His Tentative Cabinet Slate.

WANTS TO CUT EXPENSES

Harding Believes Business Man Will Be Able to Save $25,000,000.

By Raymond Clapper
By United Press Leased Wire
Marion, Ohio.—A shift in the Harding cabinet slate appeared to be taking place today.

Charles A. Dawes, Chicago, who has been mentioned for the treasury post, is now being considered for the war department and Andrew Mellon, Pittsburgh, appears in the lead for the treasury. This situation was further complicated today by the arrival of ex-Senator John W. Weeks, Massachusetts, who is understood to desire the treasury post in preference to being coming secretary of the navy as has been suggested by Harding's advisers.

Dawes would fit into the war job equally as well as in the treasury job. He was one of General Pershing's right hand men in France, having had charge of all purchases for the expeditionary forces. Harding estimated that a capable business executive could save at least $25,000,000 a year in the war department. Dawes' experience with the volunteer forces during the war also fits him for the voluntary military training program which Harding has in mind. Harding's plan, still vague as to detail, contemplates summer training camps, modified after the Pittsburg camp, where young men can spend five or six months in training without greatly interfering with their progress in civil life. After this training they would go into the reserve for a limited period. Supplementing these camps would be military training given at college.

Train Big Army

Harding estimates that at least 100,000 men a year would be trained in this way at a moderate cost through utilizing camps built during the war.

The disarmament question is receiving Harding's earnest consideration but he has not yet decided whether to call a conference after his inauguration.

Congressman Fordney, Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee, was to discuss tariff legislation with Harding today.

The president-elect's resignation from the senate is effective today.

PERET REFUSES TO FORM NEW CABINET

Millerand's Appointee Gives Up Task—Briand Is Offered Position.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Aristide Briand, former premier of France, has been asked by President Millerand to accept the premiership and form a new cabinet following Raoul Peret's announcement that he was unable to perform this task.

Briand will reply to Millerand this evening.

Peret, designated by President Millerand to form a new French cabinet, announced at noon today that he was unable to perform the task.

MUST WORK HARD TO MAKE GOOD WITH MARY GARDEN

Chicago.—Miss Mary Garden, with the applause still ringing in tribute to her performance of "Moussu Vanna," told her plans to make the Chicago Opera association the greatest in the world.

Miss Garden, newly appointed executive and artistic director of the association, has decided ideas regarding what she will do. They include:

Presentation of an equal number of French and Italian operas each year, with at least one American opera—not a translation, she said—but an American opera by an American composer.

Placing business direction of the association in the hands of competent American businessmen.

Recognition of "every artist and every talent."

Miss Garden said she expected no difficulty in handling the temperamental artists.

"There is not the least bit of jealousy in my theatrical work," she said.

"Those who have merit and are willing to work will find the way open to them. Those who have merit but don't care to work and those who haven't ability will have to go."

TWO COMPANIES MAKE 20 PER CENT WAGE CUTS

Elizabeth, N. J.—The Singer Manufacturing company, employing about 8,000 persons here and having branch factories in Flint, Mich., and Bridgeport, Conn., posted notices today of a twenty per cent reduction in wages to become effective at once.

Galli Curci Is Happy Today

How many husbands do you hold in your hand? Only one? That's what Galli Curci, the opera singer, thought a year ago when she divorced her first husband and announced that she was "through with men." But her understudy, Jane English, an amateur pianist, just smiled. "You'll have another," she said, pointing to Galli Curci's palm. "See this second square the lines make—it's perfect. That marriage will be happy." Galli Curci is shown here with her new husband, Homer Samuels, her pianist. The rings on Galli Curci's palm show the location of the marriage squares.

Galli-Curci Is Bride In Brilliant Wedding

Famous Soprano Weds Accompanist at His Home in Minneapolis Today—Defer Honey-moon Until Next June.

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis, Minn.—From the footlights Mme. Galli-Curci loves the public and is generous—but from her wedding bowler she is selfish.

"I'm so very happy, and am deeply touched by the warm welcomes I have received since my engagement was announced—but my wedding—ah, that's so intimate a thing, I cannot talk about that even to my dear public," she told the United Press.

"I must admit I am selfish with my great happiness."

In becoming Mrs. Homer Samuels at high noon today, the Chicago opera company prima donna also became an American citizen.

Her piano accompanist will be her constant throughout life, but she will sing as Amilia Galli-Curci.

It was a wedding of coincidences. This was her husband's birthday anniversary. His twin brother, Dr. Harvey C. Samuels, of Minneapolis, was "best man." It is also the thirty-sixth anniversary of the wedding of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Samuels. A year ago Mme. Galli-Curci Samuels took out her first naturalization paper, but by her marriage she does not need to apply for second papers. Also, a year ago, she was divorced from Luigi Curci, in Chicago.

"I shall continue to sing, and Mr. Samuels will continue to compose and play, so long as we can be fair to ourselves and to the public. We have bought a home in Minneapolis and shall return here in June. We expect to spend our vacation in the Catskills where we study and work on new programs."

Madame wore a pearl grey tulle with a silver lace apron and Kolinsky tails—her own idea of a wedding gown.

She carried orchids. Dr. H. P. Dewey, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, performed the ceremony.

"Tonight they will have for Indianapolis to appear in another concert Monday."

"It will not be much of a honeymoon," she said, "but our real honeymoon begins in June."

500 MILLIONS IS INVOLVED IN TAXATION CASE

Supreme Court to Determine Basis for Determining Profit for Taxation.

UPSET INCOME ESTIMATES

Loss of the Case Will Make It Necessary to Find New Revenue.

By David Lawrence
Copyright, 1921

Washington.—All calculations as to the cost of the budget needed to run the government, all estimates as to the amounts that must be raised for taxation either by tariff duties or income taxes may be upset if the department of justice should lose two cases which have just been argued before the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The most important financial litigation in which the government has been engaged" is the way officials at the department of justice describe the cases, and it is estimated that fully $500,000,000 in taxes that already have been collected may have to be given back by the government if the outcome of the cases is unfavorable.

Reviving in importance the famous stock dividend cases, the two big principles at issue in the pending cases are of far-reaching importance to the business men of the country as well as to all persons who have money invested in trust funds.

One is known as the invested capital case and the other the capital assets case. The first grows out of the rise in value of some coal lands from $200,000 to something like $10,000,000 in a few years. The concern in question issued stock to the amount of the ten million and the government claims that the new stock is really profit. Land increases in value through a variety of circumstances and while in this case many improvements were made the increase in value came about as it does in so many cases through the increased demand for products of the soil.

Many Similar Cases

There are hundreds of thousands of similar instances throughout the country and just as often as the case was put on the calendar for argument, fifteen firms promptly filed briefs to protect their own interests. The question of whether the increased value is profit and subject to tax or whether it is an increase in capital controlled by the soil is so vital that it may affect the entire tax question and either require new laws by Congress or new rulings by the treasury department.

The other case involves a still more interesting principle. It is in connection with the Ryerson estate of Chicago and the Merchants Trust Company is seeking to have a ruling of the Treasury overturned. Millions of dollars have been held by the trust company for the heirs of the Ryerson estate. That money has trebled in value because the securities in which the money was invested have gone up. Now the trust company felt that it ought to sell the securities and reinvest the money thus obtained. The trust company contends that the increased amount of money is simply an increase in capital and is not profit. It further argues that the individual legatees may get increased incomes through payments from the fund but that the government taxes those payments by reaching the individual.

What Is Profit?

On the other hand, the government claims that profit is measured always by the difference between the financial standing of a firm or a trust fund or an individual at one date and the financial standing of the same at any later date. This profit or surplus has been subject to attack before and the government lost in the stock dividend case. The present case is really another way to get around the stock dividend decision. The government has been trying for some time to get at war profits and prevent their distribution as capital stock. However, it would be a comparatively easy matter to evade taxation in either of the cases outlined above as for instance if the heirs to an estate consented to take small payments during the years of high tax laws and larger payments later on when income tax rates are gradually reduced.

Former Associate Justice Hughes argued the invested capital case for the coal lands company and his brief was considered by observers as especially convincing. Of course no one knows how the court will decide and no inferences can be drawn from arguments no matter by whom they are made or how convincing they appear. But if the government should lose the case, Congress will have to find and find out some new ways to raise revenue whether by tariff or income taxes or consumption taxes. The budget of four billion which the Wilson administration submitted and which the Republicans think they can cut down to three billion may actually be reduced to that figure only to have a court decision change the total that must be raised. This happened in the stock dividend case and embarrassed the republicans in Congress. The department of justice purposely asked that the cases be advanced on the calendar so that they could be decided before the train of tax legislation got too deep in the mire.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH WILL BE ERECTED HERE

A new Baptist church will be built as soon as possible, according to the Rev. A. F. McMillan, pastor of the Baptist church, who spent Friday at the Baptist state headquarters in Milwaukee. The church is to be erected on the corner of the local church in a recent drive for $100,000. The amount appropriated will be available in June, according to present plans. Steps will be taken to shape present plans into tangible form, whereby a commodious house of worship will be completed at the earliest possible date.

The leaders, believing that the present success of the boy scouts is greatly due to the efforts of the volunteer workers, are anxious to band together for the same results in the girls' organizations. E. R. Henderson, boy scout executive, has offered his help in the work. A number of men have signified their intention of helping the girls as they have helped the boy scout movement.

The following leaders were present: Mrs. N. L. Lawson and Miss Eleanor Hall; Girl Scouts; Miss Margaret Nicholson; Miss Kippinham and Miss Laura Rogers; Camp Fire girls; Miss Marie Ruberg, Girls' club.

Alderman A. W. Isaacs left for Washington, D. C., Friday to attend a meeting of sugar beet growers of the country.

10 OUT OF 743 COWS REACT TO TUBERCULIN TEST

Gopher Hill Factory Owners Are Pleased With Condition of Herds.

Outagamie county again made dairy history with completion of tuberculin tests of herds owned by 21 patrons of Gopher Hill cheese factory. Not only are the dairymen convinced of the value of the tests, but they are elated over the fact that only 10 out of 743 cows are reactors. They take it as convincing evidence that there is little tuberculosis among cattle in this county.

Tests by the intradermal method were taken over a period of six days by Dr. J. B. Collins, veterinarian of the state livestock sanitary board. He examined the 21 herds owned by cheese factory patrons, and 8 others from farmers who had requested the inspection. He found only one cow out of every seventy-five that had any signs of tuberculosis, meaning that hardly more than 1 per cent of the cattle were infected.

Early in the fall the cheese factory patrons held a meeting at which they decided to take advantage of the state livestock sanitary board's offer by which free examinations will be conducted if the desire is unanimous among the factory's producers. These men must also agree to dispose of any animals that react to the test. The petition was forwarded to Madison, resulting in the appearance of Dr. Collins. It is the first time dairymen in the county have undertaken such a move. Joint testing is necessary to insure tubercular-free cheese.

The low per centage of diseased animals scattered among several farmers means that none will suffer any great loss through slaughter of these cows. This appears to have been the draw-

EXPLAIN DUTIES TO SCOUT FIREMEN

High School Boys Are Well Organized to Act in an Emergency

Locations for each member of the scout fire squad were assigned at a meeting of the squad Friday afternoon at the high school. George P. McGillan, chief of fire department, explained the duties of each one in case of fire. The fire squad was divided into three groups, the chemical squad, the life squad and the hose squad.

In case of fire it is the duty of the chemical squad to extinguish the place with chemicals. If too big for chemicals the hose squad takes possession. They are to attach the hose and see that water is turned on.

The life squad attends to the people who are in the building. When a victim of smoke or fright faints or falls the life squad scout will carry him out of the building.

In drill the scouts are to act as they would at a fire. It is the duty of all members of the squad to ring in an alarm when they discover a fire.

FIEDLER INSTALLED AS E. F. U. PRESIDENT

back to other tests, many fearing that a portion of their herds would be wiped out once it became known they were infected. The Gopher Hill men consider themselves fortunate for having the tests made now, however, as this disease among cattle is one of the most treacherous and contagious known. It will quickly work its way through an entire herd unless the reactors are removed.

Make Annual Tests

Farmers are well pleased with the test now that it has been tried. They believe they have forwarded their own interests and the welfare of dairymen in the county. They were impressed with the carefulness with which Dr. Collins worked, and were pleased with his agreeable attitude and willingness to answer questions, make explanations and give advice. Tests probably will be taken annually from now on.

Most people wonder what becomes of tubercular cows. Their care becomes a matter of strictest quarantine. The 10 Gopher Hill cows will be shipped to Milwaukee in a car by themselves. They will be taken to a segregated slaughter house to be butchered by government officials. Government inspectors then make a post mortem examination. If the disease has permeated the carcass making the meat unfit or unsafe for table use, it is condemned. The meat is then placed in large cookers where it is thoroughly sterilized and used either for hog food or fertilizer. A nominal sum is paid the farmer for the animal.

REORGANIZE BOARD OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Madison—The state board of public affairs, which passes on all budgets and financial matters of the state, will be completely re-organized early in February, Riley S. Young, speaker of the assembly, being the only member under the Phillips administration to hold over and that through his re-election to the speakership.

The board of public affairs is composed of the governor, secretary of state, president pro tem of the senate, speaker of the assembly, chairman of the senate and assembly finance committees and three citizens to be appointed by the governor. This means that Governor Blaine succeeds Governor Philip Secretary of State Hull Elmer Hall succeeds Merlins Hull, Senator Timothy Burke as president of the senate succeeds former Senator W. T. Stevens, Rhinelander, Senator Roy Nye, Superior succeeds Senator A. H. Wilkinson, Bayfield, as chairman of the senate finance committee, and the chairman of the assembly finance committee to be appointed Tuesday, will succeed Carl Kurtenacker, LaCrosse. The three citizens whose terms expire Feb. 1, are George B. Budnall, Superior; George A. West, Milwaukee, and L. Albert Karel, Kaukauna, the latter the only democratic member of the old board.

B. A. Klekhofer, secretary of the Board for the last six years, leaves the department today having tendered his resignation a month ago. His successor will be James B. Borden, at present assistant secretary of the state Board of Education, for more than a dozen years assistant state superintendent of public instruction, and during the war secretary of the State Council of Defense.

Won't Go To Class Until They Are Called By Bell

THAT was the rule until they were out of college has been practically demonstrated in Main hall at Lawrence since the clapper of the old bell mysteriously disappeared. Students have been so accustomed to responding to the school bell every since they learned in the first grade that one tap of the bell meant stand, two taps, turn and three taps, march, that they have been completely confused without the familiar signal.

Students wandered around the halls, unwilling to risk the chance that they might be too early, until the class would be well on its way.

Suddenly the familiar toll of the main hall bell was heard Friday morning after a silence of three weeks. The sound was welcomed by both student body and faculty, who had been inconvenienced by the prank.

It developed that some members of the freshman class had thrown the old clapper in the Fox river where it is silenced for ever more. They were so puzzled by the failure of the old familiar signal that a new clapper was purchased and now all is well at Lawrence again.

SEND GOOD BOOKS INTO RURAL HOMES

Hundreds of Communities Eager to Make Use of Traveling Library.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison—There will be no lack of good live reading matter to fill in the long winter evenings on the farm or in the villages of Wisconsin this winter if one may judge by the activities of the traveling library department of the Wisconsin Free Library commission.

With the last three months more than 40,000 volumes have been shipped to eager readers living in all parts of the state. More than 700 committees received collections of books, books of all kinds, for young and old, popular books on fiction, books on history, travel, biography, as well as practical books on farming and business.

In some communities, according to C. B. Lester, secretary of the Free Library Commission, these collections are placed in the village postoffice, the barber shop, the bank, a store or in a rural school or even a cheese factory, wherever the people may have access to them. Such collections are loans without charge providing the community will pay the freight and return them at the end of six months.

More than 2,500 individuals have received books by parcel post since Oct. 1. These borrowers have simply written a letter asking for certain books and the books have been sent to them by prepaid post, for a three week loan, at the end of which the borrowers return the books, paying return postage. This opportunity to borrow books free of charge is open to all citizens of Wisconsin, by addressing the Traveling Library department at Madison.

BIG SHOE ORDERS REVIVE BUSINESS

Shoe Retailers Protected
Against Price Changes
Until July 1.

That the slump which is closing the factories and throwing thousands of men out of work will soon be a thing of the past is the prediction of Appleton shoe dealers, who rely on the information they received at the National Shoe Retailers' association convention in Milwaukee. Among the speakers at the convention were men who dwell entirely upon the revival of business.

"One speaker in particular gave several reasons for the depression," said J. B. Langenberg. "He said, in short, not only shoe men but all merchants, had held off with their buying in the hope prices would come down. Without orders, no factory can operate, so they had to lay off their help. In many places the speaker said, the shelves were practically bare of stock. Without work, the men had no money to buy other things, consequently other industries shut down for lack of orders. Another reason why everyone kept from buying was because of the convention. They thought, 'Well, I'll wait, maybe prices will be way down at the convention.'"

"The speaker then went on to show why he thought market conditions would become better again," Mr. Langenberg said. "Everyone began to order shoes at the convention. A lot of dealers had big holes in their shelves to fill and it took big orders to do it."

"With big orders coming in the shoe manufacturers are able to begin production again. They will hire workmen by the thousands. Then when these workmen begin to see a light ahead, they will commence buying other products which will necessitate the starting up of other industries which are now down."

"There are two reasons why merchants bought so much at the convention," said Mr. Langenberg. "The first is need of a large stock, and the second is the guarantee of the present price of shoes until July 1."

"It does not follow, however, that after July 1, prices will come down. It merely means that until that time, the price will not change. The merchant may buy heavily without being afraid of a drop immediately after he has his stock."

"Judging from the logical arguments put forth by the speakers at the convention, better things are in store," said C. F. Bohl. "Several of the many speakers turned their talk in some way so that it included a discussion of what to do to make conditions in this country better. The large orders received by the manufacturers will necessitate the reopening of the closed factories. It is said that there are enough orders now to keep the shoe factories busy for several months."

HARPER KNOWS ALL ABOUT THE SOVIETS

Forum Speaker Is Intimately
Acquainted With Russian Conditions.

A man who knows Russia like a book, who has seen its chaos with his own eyes, who personally knows Kerenky and other leaders and who is able to most vividly describe that country's situation is to speak at the People's Forum at 730 Sunday eve.

Wanted: Experienced Stenographer by manufacturing concern in Valley. Salary adequate. For information see Miss Salisbury at the High School.

ning on "Russia and the Bolsheviks." He is Prof. Samuel N. Harper, Ph. D., Chicago.

Dr. Harper is professor of Russian language and institutions at the University of Chicago and is a son of Dr. William R. Harper, former president of the university. Anxious to teach his subject intelligently, he has made 12 long visits in Russia. He was there during the brief revolution of 1905 and also during the last revolution when the fall of Kerenky occurred.

The speaker has received six of the leading Russian newspapers for the last three years, through which he has maintained constant communication with conditions. The papers were obtained only after considerable trouble because Lenin, Bolshevik leader, is trying to suppress news of his regime. Lenin's plan has been to send information through an occasional selected visitor of sentimental temperament and facile pen to whom he would explain his policies for propaganda purposes.

Bolshevik Organs
The regular Russian newspapers, however, are under government control and are accounts of events for the eye and ear of Russian Bolsheviks. They are Lenin and Trotsky talking to their friends and subordinates. They reflect the facts and did Dr. Harper in presenting the real situation in Russia. The industrial and labor policy will be given special emphasis.

Dr. Harper has cooperated with Ambassador Francis and Raymond Robins in looking after American interests in Russia, and has also acted as interpreter for these and other leading men. He is considered one of the best informed men in America on the Russian situation. The usual musical numbers are to be included in the forum and a period will be allowed after the lecture for questions.

Miss Mabel Rohloff left Saturday afternoon for New London, where she will spend the week end with relatives.

Carry Gospel Of Thrift Into All Appleton Homes

Large Number of Meetings Are Arranged to Spread Thrift Propaganda.

Thrift will be advocated wherever people congregate during the period from January 17 to 23. A program has been outlined that will cover every worth while principle of saving and conservation. The story will be told to old and young alike and every resident of Appleton will have an opportunity of hearing some of the good Gospel through the various avenues outlined.

The birthday of Benjamin Franklin, one of the most noted advocates of thrift, will be commemorated as a part of the program. Talks are to be given at 1:30 each afternoon at the vocational school and there is to be an illustrated lecture "Ben Franklin and Thrift," by Thor Bruce. Talks will also be given each day at the high school.

At 3 o'clock each afternoon one or two of the ward schools will be hearing the thrift message. The schedule is: Monday, Fourth ward school; Tuesday, First ward school; Wednesday, Third and Fifth wards; Thursday, Columbus and Franklin schools; Friday, Lincoln school. The illustrated lecture probably will be a feature of the presentation at these schools.

The Appleton high school bank, organized and maintained by students, is to put on a thrift program Friday, perhaps urging greater use of the bank's saving facilities.

Community day at First Congregational church will emphasize thrift. Speakers will be provided at the four o'clock gathering for children and at 7:30 for adults.

Sell Budget Books
Other features aside from speaking programs will turn the thoughts of the people away from the orgy of spending. Thrift charts are to be displayed in the Schlafer Hardware company window and there is to be an exhibit at the woman's club rooms. Boy scouts are to put on a citywide sale of United States treasury savings stamps. Budget books for family use are to be distributed for 10 cents each to cover cost.

Short thrift talks will be given in all Appleton Sunday schools and pastors are expected to emphasize the observance in the church services. Newspaper advertisements will announce the special days. Interviews with various men and women concerning the full meaning of each day's topic and the general idea of thrift will be placed before the public. Four thousand pieces of printed matter and 100 copies of "Association Men" are to be distributed. "Thriftograms" will be shown in the moving picture houses giving pointed bits of advice.

The thrift committee for Appleton is headed by Judson G. Rosebush, chairman, representing industries; H. B. Frame, activities secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is active promoter of the program and secretary of the committee. The other members are George Beckley, representing building and loan; H. E. Carneross, realtors; H. L. Dawson, merchants; George Wetters, life insurance; Ben J. Rohan, schools; R. S. Powell, banks; Paul Wright, boys' work; John Riedl, publicity; Miss Constance Johnson, woman's club; A. A. Fraser, builders.

FREIGHT SHIPMENTS IN APPLETON INCREASING

While very little freight is being handled in Appleton, with the exception of pulpwood, there has been a noticeable increase during the last two weeks and the indications are the increase will continue. Most of the traveling men are again on the road after their holiday vacations and are more optimistic than ever. Many orders are being placed notwithstanding merchants are cautious in their buying.

New Steel Lockers
One hundred and two steel lockers have just been received by the local military company which are now being installed in the armory. They will replace the former wooden ones. The new lockers are twenty inches wide, six feet high and are in batteries of three.

T. W. Jackson of Milwaukee, secretary of this city, was the guest of friends here Friday.

WORKING ON PLANS FOR CANNING PLANT

Hortonville Canning Company's Policy Hinges on Receivership Results.

Pea growers of Outagamie county will know in about two weeks whether the Hortonville Canning company, Hortonville, intends to operate its plant next summer. A meeting of stockholders was held at Milwaukee last week at which the situation was discussed. The company was placed in the hands of Attorney J. P. Frank as receiver several weeks ago.

"The stockholders concluded not to make any plans until they find out what the receivership will accomplish," said Mr. Frank when asked concerning the situation. "In my capacity as receiver I am having the books audited and the property appraised. My report will be made to the court in about a week."

No announcement of plans or policy is possible, Mr. Frank stated, until all necessary information is gotten together. Continuation of business probably will depend on what the 1920 canned stock will bring on the market after inventoried. The company was found to be practically solvent if a reasonable price could be obtained. Mr. Frank promises a definite statement in about two weeks.

Miss Dorothy Klatt and Miss Harrietta Baumenfeld of New London visited friends here Friday.

TENANT AND HOUSE OWNER ADJUST THEIR TROUBLES

The trouble between Henry Borgelein and Grover Smith was adjusted by their attorneys prior to the case being called in municipal court Friday morning. Borgelein owns a house which Smith was leasing and not being able to gain possession of it after serving due legal notices the owner started moving in. He was arrested by the tenant for trespassing. By Smith agreeing to vacate the premises by April 1 both the trespassing and ejectment proceedings were dismissed.

ers. One paper machine in the Peshigo Pulp and Paper Co. mill has been in operation for some time and the other is now being installed. The new pulpmill will be completed by May 1. The company has all the orders it can fill for several months and consequently is not affected by the present business depression.

Charles M. Bullard, formerly of Appleton but now a resident of Canada, is visiting friends here.

PESHTIGO PAPERMILL HAS PLENTY OF WORK

Good progress is being made on the new plant of the Peshigo Fibre company according to Henry Schuetter, who with several other Appleton residents are among the heavy stockhold-

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them.

POLICE OPEN WAR ON CORNER LOAFERS

Mashers Are to Be Driven From Streets, Police Chief Orders.

Appleton women who are obliged to be on College-ave in the evening are becoming the target of unprincipled young men and few older ones who come under the heading of mashers, flirts or lewd minded individuals. The annoyance from insulting remarks or from attempts to "pick up" with women and girls who are minding their own business has become so great that steps are to be taken to rid the city of the nuisance.

There is a class of girls which accepts the advances of these corner loafers, but the girls usually help matters along by a look or a wink. The result is that all women who pass the principal corners are used in the same way although they pay no attention to what is said.

The police department has taken the matter in hand. Chief George T. Price has issued orders to his officers to start a campaign Saturday night to make College avenue an orderly place instead of a gauntlet of vulgar remarks. Offenders will be taken into custody and some convictions may result where sufficient evidence is produced.

It has often happened that three or four young men will stand on a street corner. If one or two girls come along unworried, one or more of the men will step out, take hold of the girls' arms and ask, "See you home yet?" or some similar question. Others will station themselves on both sides of the walk and as girls pass between will say what they consider "cute" things of a vulgar character loud enough for the young ladies to hear. It is said that a group of young men occupied one row in a moving picture theater of an evening and made remarks about so and so and picture of such a character that several girls changed their seats.

Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. I purchased Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. I keep house and have the care of five children and I am very thankful I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound such a help. I recommend it to any woman suffering as I was before I used it."—MRS. MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 5 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MORE ROOM NEEDED FOR STATE OFFICES

Former Governor Philipp Approved Lease of Building for Six Years.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison, Wis.—That the leasing of the Overland building, to be known as the Capitol Annex, for a period of six years was necessary as a measure of economy and efficiency is the declaration of Mr. M. M. Thompson, state superintendent of public property for the last six years, who contracted for the building at the direction of Gov. L. L. Philipp.

Realizing that it would be necessary to vacate the various legislative offices for the legislature and to take care of the various activities of the different departments of the state government, Gov. Philipp directed me several months ago to find suitable quarters for the various departments," said Mr. Thompson today. "An effort was made to secure enough space in the Washington building, then the Brown block, City building, Bluff building, etc., but it was found impossible to get more than four or five rooms in any of those buildings."

A new situation was facing us in that the business community would have its activities greatly increased by the supervision of the expenditure of nearly $20,000,000, that it would require about twenty-five rooms. It was at first thought a building could be leased for that department at a cost of $6,000 to $8,000 per year. But no such building was available and the Overland building was then chosen. Before the lease could be executed, however, one of the owners determined to sell out and for a time it appeared we would have to either erect temporary barracks on the Capitol park or move several departments to Milwaukee, where a building had been offered the state.

The real estate men at Madison when they saw the situation, formed a company and purchased the building which was leased to the state for six years at an annual rental of about $12,000. And besides the entire highway commission, which has been occupying the north wing of the capitol on the third floor and several rooms in the Washington building at a cost of $700 per year, a number of other departments, including the prohibition commissioner, state fair secretary, state entomologist, treasury agent, oil inspector, securities division of the railroad commission, real estate board and engineers of the industrial commission will be housed in the annex together with the traveling library.

"In addition we will for the first time have a fireproof storage for the approximately $50,000 worth of paper and stock which it is necessary to keep on hand. This has been stored in the old Kluener wholesale grocery warehouse, a mile from the capitol and building.

The whole plan was carefully worked out as a matter of efficiency at the request of Gov. Philipp and met his hearty approval. The lease was made for six years which will be ample time for the state to try it out and the legislature will have sufficient time to consider whether or not it should arrange to construct an office house, a mile from the capitol and building.

Confessions of a Bride

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Jim Calls—Not for His Wife—But for Deborah

Before the surgeons had finished their examination of Jim his mother and father and Bob joined us girls in a private sitting room. Ann was not with them. I was relieved when the silly thing happened.

"Oh, hush!" I pleaded. "Chris ought to remember that poor Jimmy has brought Ann to us. And for his sake we would let him impose on us for the rest of our lives."

Jim had a chance to survive until morning, the doctors assured Bob who, with his father remained at the hospital. They sent us women home. The outcome of Ann's hysteria was obvious she was absolutely forbidden to enter Jim's room again.

Bob phoned early next morning. "He's improved! There's hope! And he keeps calling for Deb! The nurses think he wants his wife. But since Ann made this stupor yesterday they say it would be a crime to let her see him again. But what about Deb? Would she come? Some scandal, you know, lane, at the gossip got hold of such a morsel!"

Bring her, then. Jim is crazy unmanageable! Think he's in a plane, and it's out of control, then whispers 'Deborah' over and over! Get her! She may quiet him!"

printing offices at a cost of $700 per year, while the additional cartage loss of time, etc. has been conservatively estimated at $3,000 per year. The saving in rent for the traveling library will be $1,200 and on cartage at least $600, while it is very conservatively estimated that the cost to the state in the inconvenience in having the various departments so widely separated has been at least $1,000. This means that the $12,000 paid for the Overland building takes the place of an expenditure of $2,200 per year and brings the departments together in efficiency and economy.

The whole plan was carefully worked out as a matter of efficiency at the request of Gov. Philipp and met his hearty approval. The lease was made for six years which will be ample time for the state to try it out and the legislature will have sufficient time to consider whether or not it should arrange to construct an office house, a mile from the capitol and building.

The heating plant has been rebuilt and within a short time the various departments will be moved into it and housed as comfortably as in any of the buildings in the city.

BLUE SKY LAW HARD ON SMALL CONCERNS

No Provision in Financial System for Helping Little Fellow Start.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison, Wis.—The securities division of the railroad commission is dealing with what it calls in its report to the governor "a disease of our financial system."

"Adequate provision is made for financing old and well-established business enterprises," says the report, "but no provision is made in our financial system for financing new enterprises. The large investment houses who are equipped to investigate the financial plan and business organization of a company are unwilling to sell securities of new companies. The result is that many new enterprises of merit are compelled to get their capital from the small investor. Generally, little thought has been given to the financial needs of the company and, very little effort has been made to secure an organization capable of handling it. The stock has been usually sold by persons interested not so much in the welfare of the company as in the amount of money to be received for disposing of the stock. The business is, therefore, almost doomed from the outset, and naturally the mortality rate is very high. This is not only a hardship on the investor but is a distinct economic loss to the state. If a substantial portion of the money which is lost in such enterprises can be conserved for the promotion and development of legitimate and properly organized concerns, that will in itself easily justify the existence of the securities law."

FONDY DETECTIVE IN NARROW ESCAPE

Fond du Lac, Wis.—Detective William Fischer had a narrow escape from being shot when in company with Officer O. Kobs he was arresting two men who sought to shoot up a saloon on North Main street Tuesday afternoon.

Prompt action of Kobs, who leaped upon one man as he was leveling a revolver at Fischer, alone saved the life of the detective. The bullet whizzed over the detective's head and imbedded itself in the ceiling.

Two men, who were released several weeks ago from Stillwater penitentiary, came into Jake Wicket's saloon at 1 o'clock and asked for drinks. After drinking two glasses of pop, the taller of the two, known as Canada Slim, threw the glass on the floor and, drawing a gun, leveled it at a bystander.

George Harris, bartender, had a broom in his hand and swung at the man, causing the gun to fall from his hand. The other intruder pulled a gun and while he covered the crowd, Slim picked up his weapon.

One of the bystanders had fled when the gunplay began and ran to a nearby store and telephoned the police.

The patrol reached the scene in a few minutes and detectives rushed in and while Fischer was searching Canada Slim, Slim's companion pulled his gun and leveled it at the detective.

Kobs, who was approaching him, made a leap and struck his arm up as the weapon sounded.

DEMOCRATS LAYING FOR "BIG BILL'S" SCALP

(By United Press)

Chicago.—Though Mayor William Hale Thompson's term does not expire for more than two years, democrats claim they have discovered a flaw in the law whereby a four year mayorality term was authorized which would end Thompson's term next spring and force a new election.

As a result of the discovery the democrats are considering a plan whereby they would institute court proceedings in an effort to force the Chicago Board of Elections to call a mayoralty election.

Democrats are in this hope of landing the prize for themselves, because of a split in republican ranks. They have already started grooming candidates and there is a strong movement to stage a "come back" for Carter H. Harrison, several times mayor of Chicago.

ASK C. OF C. TO AID SHIP DAMAGE BILL

National Chamber Advocates Right to Sue for Damage Done by Navy.

In a letter received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, the Appleton chamber is urged to confer with Congressman A. G. Classon on a proposed law making it possible for ocean shippers to sue the government for damages done to private merchant ships by naval vessels. Mr. Classon is a member of the judiciary committee, to which the bill has been referred.

The inequity of the present law is to be placed before the committee. It holds the United States may promptly sue any shipping company whose boats do damage to naval vessels. When the reverse is true it becomes necessary for the firm to secure permission of congress to sue the government, and must then secure an appropriation to pay for damages. This lengthy and difficult procedure usually kills any attempt to sue the government.

The Appleton chamber probably will support a bill to remedy this situation. It will come before the board of directors at the next meeting.

Wants Suggestions

May Peterson

Miss Peterson attained the top of the mountain some friends prevailed upon her to sing the well known "Echo Song." As she did a herd of cattle appeared, stopped short and listened intently until she had finished, and then went on, for the echo song is a call to the cattle. The golden voice of May Peterson can even charm the cattle in the mountains.

May Peterson comes to our city as the fourth number on the Community Lecture and Artists series. It is expected that this will be the outstanding number of the program. Many people from surrounding cities are planning to attend. Reserved seat sale will open on Monday at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock or those so wishing may order by mail.

FARMERS GOING TO MADISON MEETING

State's Agricultural Leaders Will Present Market and Farm Problems.

Several Outagamie county farmers contemplate spending the period from February 1 to 10 at Madison. It will be the busiest 10 days of the winter for the agricultural man, with parts of the time devoted to a "get-together" market conference and the remainder to the annual farmers' course conducted by some of the best informed men in the state.

A large attendance is expected because arrangements have been made with railroads to grant half fare. Bankers, manufacturers, dealers and newspaper men are also to attend with the idea of working out a constructive plan for meeting the marketing issue.

"Better Markets for Better Products" is announced as the theme of the gathering.

Tuesday, February 1, opening day, will be given over to farmers' organizations, including Equity, Farm Bureau, Grange and others. The principal speaker will be Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, of the Hoover relief committee, whose subjects are "The World's Food Supply," and "The World's Buying Power." There will also be a pea canning conference.

The following days are termed producers' days, consumers' day, farm finance day, country life day.

Howard, president of National Farm Bureau Federation; Edward Nordman, director of Wisconsin Division of Markets; Matthew Michaels, presenting the Wisconsin Cheese Federation plan; E. C. # CAREFUL INVESTORS ARE BUYING THESE SHARES

We are pleased to announce that discriminating investors are responding to the invitation to become identified with the Chicago Fire and Marine Insurance Company. The success of the sale of 100,000 shares in this enterprise seems assured and we expect soon to be operating a new amply financed profitable fire and marine company. These statements are conservative. Liberal profits accruing to holders of shares in this company appear to be certain, a large amount of reinsurance being available as soon as organization is completed.

Incorporators and Investors on Equal Terms

Particular attention is called to the fact that the incorporators and directors of this company are to subscribe for stock in an amount equal to one-tenth of the million dollar capital. Furthermore, as stated in a recent article in the Chicago Evening Post, these men are putting their money in "on precisely the same terms that are tendered the public." The one condition in this proposition applies to all: The payment of $25.00 for each of the 100,000 shares offered.

Profits in the Insurance Business

Men and women subscribing to this stock issue are doing it because they see a clean, well-defined opportunity to make money with the maximum of safety surrounding the investment.

Stocks of going insurance companies are never listed on the stock exchanges or curb markets. They are too good to sell. When they are disposed of, by force of circumstances, they almost invariably bring the seller a handsome gain.

Here are vital facts—worthy of your consideration:

The book value of stock in the average going company is several times the price paid. Thirty-three companies in 1919—the last year for which official records have been completed, some of them with smaller capital than we propose to have, some of them with greater—showed a percentage of net income to capital of 195.7, after deducting all losses and expenses. The 1919 cash dividends paid by these companies, many of them on capital enormously increased by stock dividends in addition to cash dividends, averaged 23 per cent!

Can You Find a Better Investment?

Act on This Today

The wise management that our proposed officers and directors will give this company—and we have every reason to believe they will, in the light of their business records—should place the Chicago Fire and Marine in the same class occupied by these 33 typical companies. There is a pressing need for more companies. The demand for insurance facilities is great. There is reinsurance waiting to be written by this company, and a direct writing business, with agencies in the principal cities, will be developed.

The proposed capital of this company is $1,000,000.00, net surplus $1,125,000.00. The one price is $25.00 per share—no promotion stock, no other condition of any kind. Complete details will be given you on application. You are under no obligation whatever when you fill out the attached coupon or write for interesting facts about this fine opportunity.

INTERLAKES WALLOP ST. NORBERT QUINTET

St. Norbert college basketball team of DePere was defeated at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening by the Interlakes, 31 to 20. Fountain of St. Norbert, starred for that team, while Plotow was the star for the Interlakes. At the end of the first half the score was 15 to 8. The game was on ice for the full team from the start. Interlakes played all substitutes in the second half.

Tonight Wisconsin Rapids team will meet the Interlakes at Armory G. A preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock will be staged between the Woman's club team and Seymour girls.

NEW U. S. SECURITY HAS LIBERAL INTEREST RATE

Uncle Sam is offering 5 1/2 and 5% per cent interest on a new issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness, according to notice received by Postmaster Gustav Koller. It is believed to be one of the highest interest producing investments ever offered by the government for funds for temporary treasury use.

The certificates are in two groups, drawing interest from January 15. Series E 1921 draws 5 1/2 per cent and matures April 15, 1921. Series F 1921 pays 5% per cent and matures October 15, 1921. Bearer certificates are in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. Two coupons are attached to series F, one payable July 15 and the other October 15.

Treasury certificates are considered one of the most profitable and safe forms of investment on the security market, because they retain their par value. They are free from almost every form of taxation. All banks are prepared to handle subscriptions.

Civil Service Jobs
It was hardly possible to secure applicants for civil service positions six months ago, but times have changed. More than a dozen young men appeared at the postoffice Saturday morning to take the examination for railway mail clerk. Promise of early appointment in the tenth division at a salary of $1,600 a year appears to have a real lure for the unemployed.

The Woman's Athletic association of Lawrence college met at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at Ormsby hall for a hike. The girls planned to hike as far as they felt like and return via the trolley.

LEONARD RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP BY NARROW MARGIN

Richie Mitchell Is Stopped in Sixth Round of Wonderful Fight.

BENNY FLOORED IN FIRST

Champion Goes Over on His Back After Flopping Mitchell 3 Times.

By Henry L. Farrell
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Benny Leonard is still number one among the world's light weights by the margin of a second, in inch or some other small measure.

Richie Mitchell is not number one by the same little difference.

Fifth avenue and First avenue, Riverside Drive and the Ghetto saw the fine line of disjunction drawn last night in Madison Square Garden.

More than 15,000 spectators in evening clothes, and sweaters, debutantes and shop girls, bank president and taxi drivers saw Leonard and Mitchell put up one of the greatest battles ever seen here.

Leonard won in the sixth round when the referee stopped between them and helped Mitchell to his corner after he had been knocked down three times.

The sixth round was the winner but the first round was the thriller.

At the tap of the gong, Leonard, with all the confidence of a champion, walked from his corner and went after the Milwaukee challenger.

Before the crowd had its eyes focused on the bright ring, Mitchell went down under a left hook to the jaw. He came up after the count of nine and almost immediately went down again. Nine seconds were tolled and when he lifted his head his right eye was closed Leonard scenting victory, opened with another vicious attack and for the third time Mitchell went down.

Coming up at nine the Milwaukee boy was apparently gone. He was weaving around the ring and the back was yelling for a finish. Leonard came in to give him the final application of gloves when all at once the left of the tall, groggy boy shot out and caught the champion flush on the jaw. For the first time since he became king of the class, Leonard went down flat on his back with a bump. His eyes were glassy and he seemed dazed. He tried to get up and his knees sagged. In his corner Billy Gibson, his manager, was pale with fixed eyes. He tried to shout instructions but he couldn't voice a word. He was dumb struck. At the count of nine Leonard rose to his feet. He shook his head and stepped about uncertainty. Summoning all his ring craft, the champion boxed with the boy that was too weak and too far gone to follow up his advantage.

The gong sounded, Leonard went to his corner still in a dazed surprise. Mitchell slowly walked to his corner, obviously aware of the fact that he missed his best chance for fame and a fortune.

Leonard was careful in the second round and the following rounds. He boxed with Mitchell and waited his chance. Getting stronger all the time, the champion's speed increased, while Mitchell gradually grew weaker.

The chance came in the sixth round. Leonard got an opening for a right cross. He put it over and Mitchell went down again. He came up with his gloves under his chin, desperately trying to stop the next blow. Leonard measured him and put over another smash to the jaw. Mitchell was hanging on the ropes helpless when the referee stopped the bout.

Yep, Mr. Leonard Is A Fine Looking Young Chap

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—"Oh, there won't be a fight after we gave up that darling dance at the Plaza to come down here. "Oh, I'm so disappointed." "It was a sweet young thing in one of the boxes in Madison Square Garden last night, talking to a blonde boy out of 'Who's Who.' "He was trying to give her what the boys up in the smoke of the gallery call 'the lowdown' on the social prizefighter. "Sure, they are going to box and by the way, a victory doesn't matter to it as a fight. It is a boxing match," the gallant coot said. "But look, Mr. Mitchell has his hands bandaged and so has Mr. Leonard. They must have been hurt." "No, no, boxers always wear bandages to protect their hands," Mr. goodness, don't those gloves protect them. They are the very best things I've ever seen. "Then a glance around the boxes and then a comment about the gown of Mrs. So-and-So and the bravery of Mrs. Whozat in sitting so close to the stage. "Isn't Mr. Leonard perfectly charming? He's so much better looking than Mr. Mitchell. I hope he doesn't get a black eye or something." "He shall not. He has too good a guard." "Am those men in his corner his guard? Oh, there's a bucket there too isn't that terrible. I always heard contenders. I'm here now and any promoter can talk to me." "Hit him Mr. Leonard, he's out Finish him. Ah, there he's gone. Isn't Mr. Leonard a fine fighter?" "Yes, yes, he really is," from her side. "When will Mr. Leonard fight Mr. Dempsey, I want to see that."

The Advertising club of Lawrence college held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening. Messrs Wang and Lee, Chinese students, were the principal speakers. Mr. Wang read a paper on different kinds of advertising, and Mr. Lee delivered a paper on advertising in general.

"I Owe Reo $280"

That was the remark of a Detroit business man who bought a Reo Speed Wagon four years ago.

Occasion was an informal gathering of business men preliminary to a big meeting, and as usual the discussion turned to motor trucks, the relative merits, efficiency and costs of the various makes.

(Trucks is a topic of absorbing interest nowadays—the era of the motor truck has arrived).

"Our practice has been to charge off 25% per annum for depreciation," he explained. "The U. S. Government has set that as the proper figure—and our previous experience with other makes had shown it was not excessive by any means!"

"On that basis we would now owe the maker of our Reo Speed Wagon $280.00 for having delivered to us a truck that has shown that much profit in the four years it has been in service."

"Now—in its fifth year—the Speed Wagon appears to be in just as serviceable condition as the day it left the Reo factory."

"Of course we have replaced any part that needed replacing—given it all the attention it needed at any time."

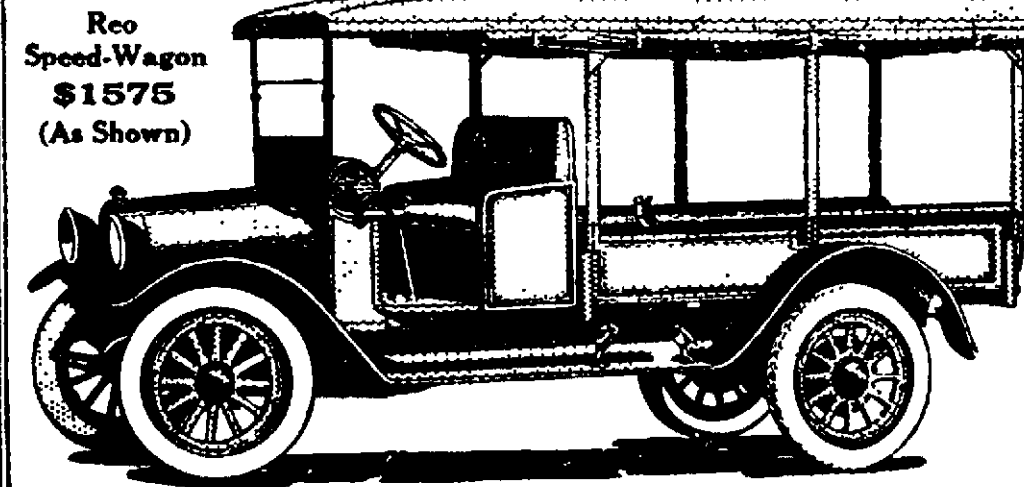

"That makes its record the more remarkable—in first class running condition today it still has $280 to its credit besides having earned its cost several times over in the work it has done."

Query—does it pay to experiment with a truck of lesser proven capacity just because the price is also less?

Buying a Reo Speed Wagon you are dealing with a certainty.
